This document provides key investor information about this fund ("Sub-fund"). It is not marketing material. The information is required by law to help investors understand the nature and the risks of investing in this Sub-fund. UBS (Lux) Commodity Index Plus USD Fund, a Sub-fund of CS Investment Funds 13

Share Class	BH CHF
ISIN	LU1278908113
Management Company	Credit Suisse Fund Management S.A., 5, rue Jean Monnet, L-2180 Luxembourg

Objectives and investment policy

The Sub-fund invests in various financial derivative instruments such as swaps, index forwards or futures and options on commodity indices or in certificates on commodity indices. This Sub-fund aims to outperform the return of the Bloomberg Commodity Index (TR) benchmark. The Sub-fund is actively managed. The benchmark is used as a reference point for portfolio construction. The majority of the Sub-fund's exposures will refer to, and have weightings derived from, the benchmark. The Investment Manager will use its discretion to overweight or underweight certain components of the benchmark and may invest in sectors not included in the benchmark in order to take advantage of specific investment opportunities. It is thus expected that the performance of the Sub-fund will materially deviate from the benchmark. The Sub-fund uses derivatives to reduce the impact of changes in currency exchange rates on the performance for this Share Class. The investor can buy or sell units of the Sub-fund on a daily basis, as further defined in the prospectus. This Unit Class does not make distributions. The Sub-fund shall bear the costs of standard brokerage and bank charges incurred by the Sub-fund through securities transactions in relation to the portfolio. These charges are not included in the "Charges" section of this document.

Risk and reward profile

Risk profile

The Sub-fund's risk and reward profile shows the variations in value an investment in this Sub-fund would have undergone over the past five years, whereby simulated performance data is used in the case of missing history. The Sub-fund's risk rating may change in the future. Please note, higher possible gains generally also mean higher possible losses. The lowest risk category does not mean that the Sub-fund is risk free.

Why is the Sub-fund in the specific category?

Investments in bonds are affected by changes in interest rates, the size of the market segment, the currency allocation, the economic sector and the credit quality of the bonds. The Sub-fund mainly holds short term investments with generally good credit quality. However, the Sub-fund may be exposed to currency risk. Commodity prices mainly reflect their expected value as estimated by market participants. Important changes in perceptions may cause large fluctuation of prices. The Sub-fund may have a low degree of issuer diversification which makes it more vulnerable.

Are there any other particular risks?

The Sub-fund's risk and reward profile does not reflect the risk inherent in future circumstances that differ from what the Sub-fund has experienced in the recent past. This includes the following events which are rare but can have a large impact.

- Credit risk: Issuers of assets held by the Sub-fund may not pay income or repay capital when due. Part of the Sub-fund's investments may have considerable credit risk.
- Liquidity risk: Assets cannot necessarily be sold at limited cost in an adequately short timeframe. However, this Sub-fund's investments should generally have good liquidity.
- Counterparty risk: Bankruptcy or insolvency of the Sub-fund's derivative counterparties may lead to payment or delivery default. The Sub-fund will endeavor to mitigate this risk by the receipt of financial collateral given as guarantees.
- Operational risk: Deficient processes, technical failures or catastrophic events may cause losses.
- Political and legal risks: Investments are exposed to changes of rules and standards applied by a specific country. This includes restrictions on currency convertibility, the imposing of taxes or controls on transactions, the limitations of property rights or other legal risks. Investments in less developed financial markets may expose the Sub-fund to increased operational, legal and political risk.
- Sustainability risks: Sustainability risks are environmental, social or governance events or conditions that can have a material negative effect on the return, depending on the relevant sector, industry and company exposure.
