Columbia Threadneedle (Lux) III The Portfolios and their Objectives

CT (Lux) Diversified Growth

The investment objective of the Portfolio is to achieve capital appreciation over the medium to long-term through a broadly diversified mix of holdings into traditional and alternative assets including investments in: equities, bonds, indirect property and indirect commodities. The Portfolio intends to target a return of ESTR (Euro Short-Term Rate) (or the equivalent local currency SONIA (Sterling Overnight Index Average) rate per hedged share class) +4% over a rolling 3 year period. Portfolio efficiency is maximised, and costs minimised, by using the most efficient products in the market place, that provide liquid, low-cost exposure to the relevant asset class. A combination of cash, Exchange Traded Funds (ETF), financial derivative instruments, listed certificates issued by investment banks, as well as swap contracts and currency are used to structure the Portfolio.

CT (Lux) Euro Bond

The investment objective of the Portfolio is to ensure an adequate return of the invested capital while reducing risk due to an adequate investment diversification. The assets of the Portfolio are mainly invested, directly or through the use of financial derivative instruments, in debt securities having a fixed and variable income listed on a stock exchange or dealt in on another regulated market of an OECD-member state, whilst attempting to reduce the exchange risks. Without changing the specific investment policy of the Portfolio and as market conditions and investment opportunities prevail, the Portfolio may, on an ancillary basis, invest in securities listed on a stock exchange or dealt in on a regulated market of a non OECD-member state. Taking into account the principle of investment risk spreading, the Portfolio will invest, directly or indirectly through the use of financial derivative instruments, in investment grade (at the time of the purchase and as defined by recognised rating agents such as Moody's Services or Standard & Poor's) bonds and money market instruments. The Portfolio may invest in financial derivative instruments to achieve its investment objective. Such instruments may also be used for hedging purposes. These instruments may include, but are not limited to, futures, forwards, options, swaptions, interest rate swaps and inflation swaps.

CT (Lux) European Growth & Income

Performance

Over the six months to 31 March 2024, the Class X shares - EUR returned 10.8%. The Class A shares EUR returned 9.9%. By comparison the benchmark of ESTR rate, plus 4% per annum, returned 4.0% over the same period. Performance is net of fees and in euro terms.

All the main elements of the portfolio contributed to returns. The largest contribution came from equities on the back of the strong recovery from October lows. Technology and the US led the rally on the back of a wave of optimism surrounding Artificial Intelligence (AI), fuelled by strong earnings reports in the industry. We increased total global equity exposure over the period. Within equities Japan remained our favoured region. There are several reasons for the growing tide in investment in Japanese equities. The economic backdrop has improved, corporate investment in reshoring production is increasing and structural reform is picking up. After decades of trying, the country is poised to exit from deflation. Bonds also contributed positively, with yields falling and credit risk spreads tightening, but gave back some gains in 2024 as expectations for increase rate cuts were pushed out and pared back. We reduced our exposure to inflation linked bonds and investment grade bonds in favour of government bonds where we saw more value given the inflation outlook. Alternative strategies had a good six months with performance led by the equity and FX risk premia strategies.

Market Review

Most asset markets saw a solid recovery by the end of the period. Nevertheless, it was far from plain sailing as October 2023 was a generally weak and volatile month for safe havens and risk assets alike. Surprisingly robust US economic data pushed Treasury yields to 16-year highs, dampening the relative appeal of equities. Thereafter, however, equities rallied, core government bond yields plunged, and credit spreads tightened. This shift stemmed from positive economic surprises that fuelled hopes for a soft landing and the expectation that the major central banks would start to cut interest rates sooner than previously thought. Underlying this bullishness was a wave of optimism surrounding Artificial Intelligence (AI), fuelled by strong earnings reports in the sector. However, it's important to note the narrow leadership in US equities, with smaller companies lagging behind the headline gains. While risk assets thrived, sovereign bonds gave back some ground in 2024 as upside inflation surprises led investors to price in fewer interest rate cuts. The delay in anticipated US Federal Reserve (FED) easing bolstered the US dollar, making it the strongest G10 currency. Beyond the US, Japan saw a historic shift as the Bank of Japan (BoJ) ended its negative interest rate policy, though the yen remained the weakest G10 performer given the still wide yield gap. The Swiss National Bank became the first G10 central bank to cut rates this cycle.

Outlook

After finishing 2023 in bull market territory, global equities continued to run very hard into 2024. While the AI bull market appears overstretched in some areas, the opportunities are huge. Furthermore, calendar Q4 earnings were solid, with a significant majority of companies beating earnings expectations, and this provides fundamental support to the rally. There is increased caution in the markets around the number and speed of central bank rate cuts. Whether central banks follow through on these expected rate cuts will likely be a key variable in investor sentiment and the sustainability of the rally in 2024. Elsewhere, China's economy continues to struggle, creating something of a macro drag on the global economy and markets. Still, we believe that high quality, well managed companies will continue to perform well as we move into a post hiking-cycle environment. Our bias for bond yields has turned bullish once again as we continue to think rate cuts are coming, and valuations have turned more attractive with excessive easing cycles being priced out. The first quarter of 2024 saw a swift erosion of the euphoria exhibited in fixed income markets at year-end in anticipation of imminent rate cuts. The low but positive growth we expect across developed markets is actually a reasonable environment for investment grade (IG) issuers, particularly the less leveraged and less cyclical names. However, global IG credit spreads ended March further below (i.e. more expensive than) their five- and 20-year averages.

Columbia Threadneedle (Lux) III CT (Lux) Euro Bond

Performance

Over the six months to 31 March 2024, the I Acc EUR share class returned 6.9%. By comparison, the Barclays Capital Euro Aggregate Treasury Total Return Index returned 6.5%. Performance is total return and in euro terms.

Over the six-month period, the CT (Lux) Euro Bond Fund outperformed its benchmark. The position in higher-yielding supranational bonds was the largest contributor to outperformance. A slight duration overweight at the start of the period also contributed to outperformance as yields fell in the last months of 2023. This position was closed at the end of the year as markets had moved to price in interest rate cuts in the first quarter. As these optimistic expectations of the easing cycles were priced out we again increased duration.

Market Review

European bond yields peaked in October and then fell sharply for the rest of 2023. German 10-year Bund yields started the period at 2.8% before setting a new 13-year high just shy of 3.0% in October, but ended the quarter at 2.0%, around its lows for the year. The key driver was the expectation that the European Central Bank (ECB) would cut interest rates in 2024. However, part of these gains were given up as hopes of a first-quarter rate cut were dashed and they ended the period at 2.3%. The ECB signalled that interest cuts might come in June if wage inflation fell back. Preliminary estimates show that consumer price inflation in the Euro area fell to 2.4% in March, from 4.3% in September, as energy prices fell but core inflation declined more slowly. The Euro-zone economy stagnated in the fourth quarter of 2023, as persistent inflation, high borrowing costs and weak external demand weighed on growth, but showed signs of recovery in 2024.

Outlook

Our bias for Eurozone bond yields has turned more positive again from a neutral position previously. The first quarter of 2024 saw a swift erosion of the euphoria exhibited in fixed income markets at year-end in anticipation of imminent rate cuts. Eurozone bond yields moved higher and curves flattened as cuts were pushed back later in the year, with a shallower cycle. This was despite the European Central Bank providing a more dovish message signalling a cut in rates is likely in June. We therefore turned more positive once again as we continue to think rate cuts are coming, and valuations have become more attractive as excessive easing-cycle expectations have been priced out.

Performance

In the six months to 31 March 2024, the Class A EUR shares returned 19.0%. By comparison the FTSE All-World Developed Europe NR Index return was 14.8%. All figures are net of fees and in euro terms.

The Portfolio outperformed the very strong recovery of European equity markets over the period. Our overweight stance in sectors boosted by the continued excitement around AI was positive. This also boosted SAP, the software group, while ASML saw strong orders for its EUV lithography equipment used to make high end semi-conductors. Building materials company CRH benefited from booming infrastructure spend in the US. Cairn Homes, the Irish housebuilder, saw house prices and sales stay strong while the outlook was boosted by the prospect of falling interest rates. By contrast, among the detractors were banks, including Bank of Ireland and DNB, where the prospect of falling interest rates means reduced revenues. TGS NOPEC Geophysical underperformed as weak oil prices cut demand for its services.

Market Review

European equities delivered strong over the six months to 31 March 2024. However, the period started amidst great uncertainly, with bond yields peaking and equity markets hitting their lows in October 2023. We now know that the European Central Bank (ECB) increase in September 2023 represented the peak for interest rates. Yet it was not until December when the US Federal Reserve surprised investors with its announcement that interest rates were set to fall in 2024. This reassured investors that inflationary pressures were set to keep falling even as the Eurozone economies narrowly avoided recession and companies delivered strong results. As a consequence, equities rallied sharply in the last part of 2023. Gains were led by technology shares fuelled by continuing excitement around AI. The start of 2024 saw the outlook continue to improve, even if the ECB pushed out interest rate cuts as growth picked up on its own accord.

Outlook

We are positive on the outlook for European equities. Economies have continued to be robust in the face of high rates especially in the US and, while we believe we are returning to an environment of slower nominal growth driven by lower inflation, expectations of the pace and magnitude of rates cuts have reduced. A more stable inflation and interest rate backdrop, means we believe, that fundamentals will drive performance rather than styles. While this is arguably reflected in US valuations, Europe remains very attractively valued and with greater weight in financials and cyclical businesses looks positioned to perform well.

Columbia Threadneedle (Lux) III CT (Lux) European Smaller Cap

Performance

Over the six months to 31 March 2024, the Class A EUR share returned 11.6%. By comparison the MSCI Europe Small Cap Index, returned 13.5%. Performance is net of fees and in euro terms.

The Portfolio underperformed the strong gains of European small cap equity markets over the six months. Our holdings in drinks companies, Royal Unibrew, Davide Campari and Remy Cointreau, are all proving less resilient than we had hoped, suffering from a combination of over-stocking in the value chain, a weak consumer, and poor weather impacting demand. Remy Cointreau in particular seems to be being hit by a perfect storm, with news that China was launching an anti-dumping investigation into the Cognac industry. Weak oil prices hit suppliers to the industry, including a disappointing update from TGS, the seismic operator. We believe this is a timing issue around recovery for its end-market demand, so we are not throwing in the towel. Similarly, Nordic Semiconductor, the leading Bluetooth semiconductor designer, had a disappointing update as its sales continued to suffer from high inventories at customers. The recovery has been pushed out to later in the year. On the positive side, ASM International, the semiconductor wafer equipment manufacturer outperformed as the outlook improved after the downturn in 2023. The largest individual contributor was CTS Eventim, the German-listed, market-leading online ticketing business, which announced results that exceeded high expectations, demonstrating that the boom in live entertainment continues unabated. The shares were also helped by an announcement that the company had won the ticketing contract for the 2028 Olympic Games.

Market Review

Small cap equity markets in Europe rose over the period, performing strongly alongside the bounce in European equity market more widely. However, the period started amidst great uncertainly, with bond yields peaking and equity markets hitting their lows in October 2023. We now know that the European Central Bank (ECB) increase in September 2023 represented the peak for interest rates. Yet it was not until December when the US Federal Reserve surprised investors with its announcement that interest rates were set to fall in 2024. This reassured investors that inflationary pressures were set to keep falling even as the Eurozone economies narrowly avoided recession and companies delivered strong results. As a consequence, equities rallied sharply in the last part of 2023. Gains were led by technology shares fuelled by continuing excitement around AI, partly as a consequence of this this focus, small caps lagged the advance of the broader market. The start of 2024 saw the outlook continue to improve, even if the ECB pushed out interest rate cuts as growth picked up on its own accord.

Outlook

We are positive on the outlook for European equities. Economies have continued to be robust in the face of high rates especially in the US and, while we believe we are returning to an environment of slower nominal growth driven by lower inflation, expectations of the pace and magnitude of rates cuts have reduced. A more stable inflation and interest rate backdrop, means we believe, that fundamentals will drive performance rather than styles. Columbia Threadneedle (Lux) III CT (Lux) Global Absolute Return Bond

Performance

Over the six months to 31 March 2024, the Class F GBP Hedged shares returned 4.4%. By comparison, the SONIA Interbank Rate GBP return was 2.6%. Performance is total return, net of fees and in sterling terms.

The main drivers of returns were exposure to credit spread risk and the embedded interest rate risk of the fund's corporate bond holdings. The fund maintained its strategic tilt to higher beta corporate debt in the BBB-BB area, which had a positive impact on performance as credit spreads tightened. We continue to have a cautious view on credit though, given the richness of credit valuations. While we participated selectively in the new issue market, we continued to reduce exposure to more leveraged corporate issuers. We further enhanced our cautious view on credit through a credit hedging strategy, which continued to dampen the credit sensitivity of the fund. This detracted from returns over the period. We gradually built up exposure to interest rate risk within the fund, which saw duration increase to 2.3 years – still beneath the fund's neutral duration level of 3 years. This had a negative impact on performance when yields backed up in 2024. The catalyst behind this decision had been anticipation of more normalised monetary policy. We sought to manage the increase in interest rate exposure through the deployment of interest rate hedges and through short-term tactical trading strategies, primarily focused on the US Treasury market, which saw us take advantage of market strength to pare back positions and market weakness to add to positions.

Market Review

Bond markets delivered good returns over the six-month period. Nevertheless, it was far from plain sailing as October 2023 was a generally weak and volatile month for safe havens and risk assets alike. Surprisingly robust US economic data pushed Treasury yields to 16-year highs. Thereafter, however, core government bond yields plunged, and credit spreads tightened. The primary driver behind this was a change in interest rate expectations, as the US Federal Reserve abandoned its "higher for longer" mantra and laid the groundwork for a shift to looser monetary policy. Although the Fed kept interest rates on hold at 5.5% at its December meeting, it confirmed that the descent to a lower interest rate environment had begun. However, bond yields gave back some ground in 2024 as an improving economy both reduced deflationary pressures and the need for central banks to cut rate to support growth. As a consequence, expectations for interest rates cuts were pushed out from the first quarter and pared back. The Bank of Japan (BoJ) became the last remaining major central bank to end its negative interest rate policy, raising interest rates from -0.1% to a band of 0.0% to +0.1% in anticipation of a further strengthening in domestic inflation. Confirmation that the path to looser monetary policy from the major central banks still appeared intact, proved positive for risk assets. The S&P 500 hit another new record while credit spreads ground tighter.

Outlook

Our bias for government bond yields has turned more positive again from a neutral position previously. The first quarter of 2024 saw a swift erosion of the euphoria exhibited in fixed income markets at year-end in anticipation of imminent rate cuts. Yields moved higher, and curves flattened as cuts were pushed back later in the year with a shallower cycle. The move started in January, driven by stronger data, particularly in the US where employment and inflation surprised on the upside, feeding through to other markets. Yields then continued to drift higher throughout the rest of the quarter, though at a slower pace. We turned more positive once again as we continue to think rate cuts are coming, and valuations are more attractive as excessive easing-cycle expectations have been priced out. The low but positive growth we expect across developed markets is actually a reasonable environment for investment grade (IG) issuers, particularly the less leveraged and less cyclical names. In terms of corporate health, we anticipate that credit quality will remain strong this year. Global IG spreads ended March further below (i.e. more expensive than) their five- and 20-year averages, with euro IG still cheaper on this basis than US IG. That said, the yield on the global IG market – another way of looking at valuation – remained well above the long-run mean. We think this provides an interesting entry point for those seeking income without too much risk.

Columbia Threadneedle (Lux) III CT (Lux) Global Convertible Bond

Performance

In the six months to 31 March 2024, the return on the A EUR shares was 6.1%, while the return for the Thomson Reuters Global Focus Customized TR Index was 6.3%. Performance is net of fees and in euro terms.

The Portfolio performed in line with the benchmark, with relative security selection being the main performance driver compared to the index. Relative security selection performance was strongest in the information technology, materials, and industrials sectors, outpacing the relative weak security selection in the real estate, health care and energy sectors over the period. Relative sector allocation was positive in the utilities and real estate sectors but was overshadowed by sector allocation detracting in the industrials, information technology and consumer discretionary sectors over the period.

Market Review

The final quarter of 2023 witnessed most equity markets ending the year with rallies through November and December. Investor optimism returned after signs of falling inflation raised hopes that interest rates would likely lower in 2024. US Federal Reserve (Fed) Chairman Jerome Powell signalled that he believed that borrowing costs had peaked and the Fed maintained interest rates at 5.50% throughout the fourth quarter. Moreover, strong third-quarter growth in the US helped to counter concerns over China's lacklustre recovery, with the latter posting its only positive stock market return of 2023 in December. While the European Central Bank (ECB) indicated that lower rates were anything but certain, the ECB also held its marginal lending facility rate steady, at 4.75%. The 0.1% contraction of Eurozone GDP lent credence to investor hopes for interest rate cuts in 2024.

Investors embraced risk in the first quarter of 2024, leading to robust returns across most segments of the financial markets. Risk assets were propelled by signs that global growth remained in positive territory despite elevated interest rates, fuelling optimism about the potential for a "soft landing" in the world economy. Although the markets grew less optimistic that the Fed would begin to cut rates aggressively in 2024, financial assets were well supported by the likelihood that the central bank has finished its tightening policy for this cycle.

While convertible securities registered positive returns, they trailed the equity market by a considerable margin. US convertibles experienced an unusually large advance in the final two months of 2023, which contributed to a pause in January. It's also important to note that much of the gain for equities came from large caps, particularly a narrow group of mega-cap technology stocks. On the other hand, small- and mid-sized companies — the group most heavily represented in the convertible market — produced smaller gains.

Outlook

We have a neutral to positive bias towards the convertibles market in 2024. Our expectation is that the Fed has achieved its goal in fighting inflation, thus, is done with raising interest rates. We expect to see money flow back into the capital markets as the deposit/money market account interest rates start to stall or fall, and lose their shine as investment alternatives. For convertibles, we expect to see normal or increased levels of issuance in the primary market as companies start to get comfortable with a more stable interest rate environment and begin to address their balance sheet needs and debt maturity profiles. With improving equity fundamentals, company management teams should have more clarity on their earnings profile, increased confidence in maintaining balance sheet strength, and will look for growth opportunities again. Even though we have seen a sharp rebound in convertible securities the last two months, we think there is still room for the asset class to run higher, benefiting both from equity market upside, as well as credit recoveries. We remain positive on the US convertible market, with its growth aspects and likelihood of a robust new issuance year. We still like Japan and European market exposures in the convertible universe, however, we are cautious on the China market, as there is little clarity in what goals the policy makers intend to achieve and the tools that are available.

Performance

Over the six months to 31 March 2024, the Class I USD shares returned 10.3%. By comparison, the MSCI World Small Cap NR Index, returned 17.4%. Performance is net of fees and in US dollar terms.

The Portfolio underperformed over the period. Asset allocation was negative: an overweight to the UK detracted as the economy experienced a technical recession at the end of 2023; while an underweight to the US was also negative as that economy outperformed. In terms of individual stocks, on the negative side, SSR Mining (a gold miner) suffered from a landslide at one of its largest mines in Turkey. GrafTech International suffered as the cyclical downturn in steel industry hurt volumes and pricing, but this was exacerbated by its largest shareholder cutting its stake. Kosmos Energy underperformed as persistently elevated capex weighed on the shares as the company nears completion of a transformational LNG project. Positive contributions came from US construction materials producer Eagle Materials which continued to see strong infrastructure-related demand and a favourable pricing environment for its products. Cognyte Software continued to experience strong recovery in spending at large customers. Danish bank Ringkjoebing Landbobank delivered good results with solid loan growth and asset quality as well as continued shareholder returns.

Market Review

There was a good return from global small cap equities over the six months to 31 March 2024. However, the period started amidst great uncertainly, with bond yields peaking and equity markets hitting their lows in October 2023. We now know that the US Federal Reserve (Fed) increase to 5.25% in July 2023 represented the peak for interest rates. Yet it was not until December when the Fed surprised investors with its announcement that interest rates were set to fall in 2024. This reassured investors that inflationary pressures were set to keep falling even as the major developed economies avoided recession. As a consequence, equities rallied sharply in the last part of 2023. Gains were led by technology shares fuelled by continuing excitement around AI and smaller companies therefore lagged larger companies over the period. The start of 2024 saw the outlook continue to improve, even if central banks pushed out interest rate cuts as growth picked up on its own accord.

Outlook

After finishing 2023 in bull market territory, global equities continued to run very hard into 2024. While the AI bull market appears overstretched in some areas, the opportunities are huge. Furthermore, calendar Q4 earnings were solid, with a significant majority of companies beating earnings expectations, and this provides fundamental support to the rally. There is increased caution in the markets around the number and speed of central bank rate cuts. Whether central banks follow through on these expected rate cuts will likely be a key variable in investor sentiment and the sustainability of the rally in 2024. Elsewhere, China's economy continues to struggle, creating something of a macro drag on the global economy and markets. Still, we believe that high quality, well managed companies will continue to perform well as we move into a post hiking cycle environment.

Columbia Threadneedle (Lux) III CT (Lux) Global Total Return Bond

Performance

Over the six months to 31 March 2024, the Class I Acc EUR shares returned 4.6%. By comparison, its market reference, the Bloomberg Global Barclays Aggregate EUR Hedged Index returned 5.1%. Performance is total return, net of fees and in euro terms.

The main drivers of returns were exposure to credit spread risk and the embedded interest rate risk of the fund's corporate bond holdings. The fund maintained its strategic tilt to higher beta corporate debt in the BBB-BB area, which had a positive impact on performance as credit spreads tightened. We continue to have a cautious view on credit though, given the richness of credit valuations. While we participated selectively in the new issue market, we continued to reduce exposure to more leveraged corporate issuers. We further enhanced our cautious view on credit through a credit hedging strategy, which continued to dampen the credit sensitivity of the fund. This detracted from returns over the period. We gradually built up exposure to interest rate risk within the fund over the period. This had a negative impact on performance when yields backed up in 2024. The catalyst behind this decision had been anticipation of more normalised monetary policy. We sought to manage the increase in interest rate exposure through the deployment of interest rate hedges and through short-term tactical trading strategies, primarily focused on the US Treasury market, which saw us take advantage of market strength to pare back positions and market weakness to add to positions.

Market Review

Bond markets delivered good returns over the six-month period. Nevertheless, it was far from plain sailing as October 2023 was a generally weak and volatile month for safe havens and risk assets alike. Surprisingly robust US economic data pushed Treasury yields to 16-year highs. Thereafter, however, core government bond yields plunged, and credit spreads tightened. The primary driver behind this was a change in interest rate expectations, as the US Federal Reserve abandoned its "higher for longer" mantra and laid the groundwork for a shift to looser monetary policy. Although the Fed kept interest rates on hold at 5.5% at its December meeting, it confirmed that the descent to a lower interest rate environment had begun. However, bond yields gave back some ground in 2024 as an improving economy both reduced deflationary pressures and the need for central banks to cut rate to support growth. As a consequence, expectations for interest rates cuts were pushed out from the first quarter and pared back. The Bank of Japan (BoJ) became the last remaining major central bank to end its negative interest rate policy, raising interest rates from -0.1% to a band of 0.0% to +0.1% in anticipation of a further strengthening in domestic inflation. Confirmation that the path to looser monetary policy from the major central banks still appeared intact, proved positive for risk assets. The S&P 500 hit another new record while credit spreads ground tighter.

Outlook

Our bias for government bond yields has turned more positive again from a neutral position previously. The first quarter of 2024 saw a swift erosion of the euphoria exhibited in fixed income markets at year-end in anticipation of imminent rate cuts. Yields moved higher, and curves flattened as cuts were pushed back later in the year with a shallower cycle. The move started in January, driven by stronger data, particularly in the US where employment and inflation surprised on the upside, feeding through to other markets. Yields then continued to drift higher throughout the rest of the quarter, though at a slower pace. We turned more positive once again as we continue to think rate cuts are coming, and valuations are more attractive as excessive easing-cycle expectations have been priced out. The low but positive growth we expect across developed markets is actually a reasonable environment for investment grade (IG) issuers, particularly the less leveraged and less cyclical names. In terms of corporate health, we anticipate that credit quality will remain strong this year. Global IG spreads ended March further below (i.e. more expensive than) their five- and 20-year averages, with euro IG still cheaper on this basis than US IG. That said, the yield on the global IG market – another way of looking at valuation – remained well above the long-run mean. We think this provides an interesting entry point for those seeking income without too much risk.

Columbia Threadneedle (Lux) III CT (Lux) Responsible Euro Corporate Bond

Performance

Over the six months to 31 March 2024, the Class F Inc EUR shares returned 6.1%. This compares to the BBI Euro Aggregate Corporate TR Index, which returned 6.0%. Performance is total return, net of fees and in euro terms.

Being close to the index in terms of duration and credit risk, the fund delivered a strong return just ahead of its benchmark over the period. The primary market was even busier than expected in 2024 and we took advantage of many new issues. However, despite the large number of new issues, we managed the portfolio to ensure that the fund's credit risk profile was not driven higher, being mindful that spreads were expensive relative to their historic averages. As measured by duration times spread (DTS), credit risk in the portfolio started and ended the period broadly in line with the index. Relative duration (interest rate sensitivity) was also virtually unchanged at 0.12 years long of the index at the end of the period.

Market Review

European corporate bonds delivered good returns over the six-month period. European bond yields peaked in October and then fell sharply for the rest of 2023. German 10-year Bund yields started the period at 2.8% before setting a new 13-year high just shy of 3.0% in October, but ended the year at 2.0%, around its lows. The key driver was the expectation that the European Central Bank (ECB) would cut interest rates in 2024. However, some of these gains were given up as hopes of a first-quarter rate cut were dashed and they ended March at 2.3%. The ECB signalled that interest cuts might come in June if wage inflation fell back. Preliminary estimates show that consumer price inflation in the Euro area fell to 2.4% in March, from 4.3% in September, as energy prices fell but core inflation declined more slowly. The Euro-zone economy stagnated in the fourth quarter of 2023, as persistent inflation, high borrowing costs and weak external demand weighed on growth but showed signs of recovery in 2024. Throughout the period credit spreads ground tighter, as robust US economic data and forecast-beating corporate results bolstered sentiment. While new corporate bond issuance picked up strongly, demand remained robust as investors looked to lock in elevated yields before the rate cuts expected later this year.

Outlook

Monetary policy should ease this year, which is welcome, but rates will likely stay restrictive for some time. Inflation is trending lower but remains above target in most regions, with services inflation especially sticky. The low but positive growth we expect across developed markets is actually a reasonable environment for IG issuers, particularly the less leveraged and less cyclical names. In terms of corporate health, we anticipate that credit quality will remain strong this year. Euro IG spreads ended March further below (i.e. more expensive than) their five- and 20-year averages, though still less expensive on this basis than their US dollar counterparts. More positively, the yield on the market – another way of looking at valuation – remains above the long-run average and a far cry from the sub-1% levels we were seeing only a couple of years ago. We think this provides an interesting entry point for those seeking income without too much risk.

Columbia Threadneedle (Lux) III CT (Lux) Responsible Global Emerging Markets Equity

Performance

Over the six months to 31 March 2024, the Class A Inc USD shares returned 4.9%. By comparison, the MSCI Emerging Markets NR Index, returned 10.4%. Performance is net of fees and in US dollar terms.

The Portfolio underperformed its benchmark over the six months. In terms of stocks, the most significant detractor was AIA. While the most recent results were solid, with business volumes at all-time highs, investors were concerned over the shift in the business mix to lower margin products. However, we don't believe this is a structural issue, but reflects the current consumer environment. Wuxi Biologics detracted as it will potentially see a negative impact from the US "Biosecure Act" bill; we have sold this holding. After 20% growth last year, Jeronimo Martins fell back on worries over their ability to maintain momentum in the face of higher comparators, rising costs and deflation worries. They have net cash and we're constructive over the outlook for growth long term, given new store rollout in Colombia, as well as market share gains. Key contributors at the stock level included Techtronic, whose results beat expectations given their Milwaukee brand re-accelerating growth in what has been a downturn. FPT, the Vietnamese IT group benefited from enthusiasm over Al. Max Healthcare Institute, the Indian hospital group outperformed on the back of good results announced in January. Not owning Alibaba and Tencent was a significant benefit as the Chinese economy struggled and regulatory uncertainty persisted. The overall underweight in China at the country level was also positive, though the underweights in Taiwan and South Korea detracted

Market Review

Emerging markets delivered strong positive returns over the six-month period. Taiwanese equities had a stellar quarter and outperformed the benchmark. The rally was led by technology shares, fuelled by continuing excitement around AI. India was another bright spot, with positive economic data and the current government, with its policies of supporting infrastructure and private investment, set for re-election. However, the Chinese stock market fell, which dragged down emerging market equity returns, so that they lagged the global average. There was increasing concern about the heavily indebted Chinese property sector when a Hong Kong court ordered the liquidation of property giant Evergrande. Elsewhere, the closely watched National People's Congress did not deliver any significant policy changes with the government setting a 5% GDP growth target for this year. There were concerns over disinflation, with consumer prices in December falling by 0.3% year on year (the third consecutive negative reading). More positively, the People's Bank of China cut some interest rates There was also positivity around increased tourism revenue thanks to a festive travel boom which provided an early sign of recovery in consumer demand.

Outlook

The near-term catalyst for emerging market (EM) equities will be rate cuts. Inflation is already within central bank targets in Mexico, Brazil, Indonesia, India and Poland. Some central banks have started easing, but we expect the majority take the lead from the US Federal Reserve, where the market is predicting rate cuts later this year. China's lacklustre covid recovery and property sector woes weighed on the overall market last year; however, we have noted improving policy visibility and stimulus. North Asian economies are benefitting from the increasing demand for AI technology hardware. The Indian economy is experiencing a structural growth cycle. EM stocks are attractive from a valuation perspective, trading significantly below the long-term average and cheap relative to global equities. In our portfolios, we are focusing on quality companies with strong market positions, preferring those with stable earnings, low leverage and pricing power, which should fare better in this environment.

Performance

Over the six months to 31 March 2024, the Class A EUR shares returned 19.2%; by comparison the MSCI World NR Index returned 18.9%. Performance net of fees and in euro terms.

The fund modestly outperformed benchmark over the six months. From a sector allocation perspective, being overweight to IT was a tailwind, as the market embraced the AI thematic rally. From a geographic perspective, being underweight to Japan detracted, as the market went on a remarkable rally, supported by governance reform. From a stock perspective, performance was rooted in AI-related winners. Our holding in Nvidia was the biggest positive driver, as the stock rallied to all-time highs as demand for GPUs proved enormous. Our holding in chip manufacturer TSMC also drove significant returns, as demand for its capacity increased. Owning ASML drove alpha, with the company seeing strong orders for its EUV lithography equipment used to make high end semi-conductors. The largest individual contributor was cyber-security firm Crowdstrike, as the company reporting strong earnings. On the negative side, holding HDFC Bank underperformed as it continued to digest a complicated merger, and Aptiv also underperformed given its exposure to a slowing EV industry.

Market Review

There was a good return from global equities over the six months to 31 March 2024. However, the period started amidst great uncertainly, with bond yields peaking and equity markets hitting their lows in October 2023. We now know that the US Federal Reserve (Fed) increase to 5.25% in July 2023 represented the peak for interest rates. Yet it was not until December that the Fed surprised investors with its announcement that interest rates were set to fall in 2024. This reassured investors that inflationary pressures were set to keep falling even as the major developed economies avoided recession. As a consequence, equities rallied sharply in the last part of 2023. Gains were led by technology shares fuelled by continuing excitement around AI. The start of 2024 saw the outlook continue to improve, even if central banks pushed out interest rate cuts as growth picked up on its own accord.

Outlook

After finishing 2023 in bull market territory, global equities continued to run very hard into 2024. While the AI bull market appears overstretched in some areas, the opportunities are huge. Furthermore, calendar Q4 2023 earnings were solid, with a significant majority of companies beating earnings expectations, and this provides fundamental support to the rally. There is increased caution in the markets around the number and speed of central bank rate cuts. Whether central banks follow through on these expected rate cuts will likely be a key variable in investor sentiment and the sustainability of the rally in 2024. Elsewhere, China's economy continues to struggle, creating something of a macro drag to the global economy and markets. Still, we believe that high quality, well managed companies will continue to perform well as we move into a post hiking cycle environment.

Performance

Over the six months to 31 March 2024, the Class A Acc USD shares returned 19.0%; by comparison the MSCI ACWI SMID Cap NR Index returned 18.3%. Performance is net of fees and in US dollar terms.

The fund outperformed the benchmark over the six months. The key driver was stock selection. On the positive side was semiconductor solutions provider Lasertec, which continued its climb after positive fiscal Q1 2024 results (with high sales growth), and better semiconductor investor sentiment. US lighting solutions provider Acuity Brands rose after another positive quarter of results and better profit margin momentum. US water infrastructure business, Xylem, had a decent rebound from its previous slump on the departure of its CEO. Japan Exchange Group performed very well as it benefitted from Japanese equity market strength. Detracting from performance were US auto parts maker, Aptiv, on EV end-market slowdown fears, while US cold chain logistics firm, Americold Realty, laboured under worries about the impact of GLP-1s reducing food volumes. Thai bank, Kasikornbank, struggled with weaker macro-economic conditions while Japanese personal care firm, Uni-Charm, issued cautious trading guidance, which disappointed investors.

The start of 2024 saw the outlook continue to improve, even if central banks pushed out interest rate cuts as growth picked up on its own accord.

Outlook

After finishing 2023 in bull market territory, global equities continued to run very hard into 2024. While the AI bull market appears overstretched in some areas, the opportunities are huge. Furthermore, calendar Q4 2023 earnings were solid, with a significant majority of companies beating earnings expectations, and this provides fundamental support to the rally. There is increased caution in the markets around the number and speed of central bank rate cuts. Whether central banks follow through on these expected rate cuts will likely be a key variable in investor sentiment and the sustainability of the rally in 2024. Elsewhere, China's economy continues to struggle, creating something of a macro drag to the global economy and markets. Still, we believe that high quality, well managed companies will continue to perform well as we move into a post hiking cycle environment.

Performance

Over the six months to 31 March 2024, the AAcc share class returned 19.0%. By comparison, the MSCI All Country World NR Index returned 20.1%. Performance is total return and in US dollar terms.

The fund has a dual sustainable and income mandate. It aims to provide income combined with capital growth over the long term (at least 5 years). The fund is actively managed and combines a core equity component with an active derivatives strategy to enhance income. The fund aims to provide long-term capital growth by investing primarily in sustainable investments, considered for this fund to be shares of companies that derive, or are on a credible short to medium-term pathway to derive, a significant amount of net revenue (50% or more) from activities that can be directly linked to one or more of the UN Sustainable Development Goals ("SDGs").

During this risk-on period, the value-focused strategy of the Portfolio moderately underperformed the benchmark, but demonstrating decent resilience given the underlying trends within global equity markets. As an example of this, the largest single stock detractor was not owning Nvidia (which does not pay a dividend) which performed very strongly for the benchmark amid ongoing AI demand tailwinds, but this was made up for with the ownership of Broadcom, NetApp and TSMC that performed strongly on the back of the same AI theme and good results. Low beta pharma names, such as Takeda Pharmaceutical and Pfizer underperformed within the context of the risk-on rally. Hannon Armstrong Sustainable Infrastructure was impacted by higher interest rates which knocked investors' conviction in the earnings algorithm as financing costs escalate. On the positive side Waste Management beat expectations when they reported 4Q23 earnings.

Market Review

There was a good return from global equities over the six months to 31 March 2024. The period started amidst great uncertainly, with bond yields peaking and equity markets hitting their lows for the period in October 2023. We now know that the US Federal Reserve (Fed) increase to 5.25% in July 2023 represented the peak for interest rates. However, it was not until December when the Fed surprised investors with its announcement that interest rates were set to fall in 2024. This reassured investors that inflationary pressures were set to keep falling even as the major developed economies avoided recession. As a consequence, equities rallied sharply in the last part of 2023. Gains were led by technology shares fuelled by continuing excitement around AI. The start of 2024 saw the outlook continue to improve, even if central banks pushed out interest rate cuts as growth picked up on its own accord.

Outlook

After finishing 2023 in bull market territory, global equities continued to run very hard into 2024. While the AI bull market appears overstretched in some areas, the opportunities are huge. Furthermore, calendar Q4 earnings were solid, with a significant majority of companies beating earnings expectations, and this provides fundamental support to the rally. There is increased caution in the markets around the number and speed of central bank rate cuts. Whether central banks follow through on these expected rate cuts will likely be a key variable in investor sentiment and the sustainability of the rally in 2024. Elsewhere, China's economy continues to struggle, creating something of a macro drag to the global economy and markets. Still, we believe that high quality, well managed companies will continue to perform well as we move into a post hiking cycle environment.

Columbia Threadneedle (Lux) III CT (Lux) Sustainable Multi-Asset Income

Performance

Over the six months to 31 March 2024, the Class F EUR share returned 10.6%. Performance is net of fees and in euro terms.

Our portfolio positioning retains its bias towards higher quality, sustainable growth companies that can prosper despite near-term economic and policy-driven volatility, giving us a bias towards healthcare, information technology and industrials. Our integrated approach to Sustainable Investment prevents any allocation to companies that manufacture weapons or tobacco or that own or derive revenue from fossil fuel reserves. We continue with our strategy of adding to positions where we see strong underlying quality and where the market allows us to add at more attractive levels. Equities and credit remain our largest allocations, with a smaller position in alternatives.

Market Review

Most asset markets saw a solid recovery by the end of the period. Nevertheless, it was far from plain sailing. October 2023 was a generally weak and volatile month for safe havens and risk assets alike. Surprisingly robust US economic data pushed Treasury yields to 16-year highs, dampening the relative appeal of equities. Thereafter, however, equities rallied, core government bond yields plunged, and credit spreads tightened. This shift stemmed from positive economic surprises that fuelled hopes for a soft landing and the expectation that the major central banks would start to cut interest rates sooner than previously thought. Underlying this bullishness was a wave of optimism surrounding Artificial Intelligence (AI), fuelled by strong earnings reports in the sector. However, it's important to note the narrow leadership in US equities, with smaller companies lagging behind the headline gains. While risk assets thrived, sovereign bonds gave back some ground in 2024 as upside inflation surprises led investors to price in fewer interest rate cuts. The delay in anticipated Fed easing bolstered the US dollar, making it the strongest G10 currency. Beyond the US, Japan saw a historic shift as the Bank of Japan (BoJ) ended its negative interest rate policy, though the yen remained the weakest G10 performer given the still wide yield gap. The Swiss National Bank became the first G10 central bank to cut rates this cycle.

Outlook

After finishing 2023 in bull market territory, global equities continued to run very hard into 2024. While the AI bull market appears overstretched in some areas, the opportunities are huge. Furthermore, calendar Q4 earnings were solid, with a significant majority of companies beating earnings expectations, and this provides fundamental support to the rally. There is increased caution in the markets around the number and speed of central bank rate cuts. Whether central banks follow through on these expected rate cuts will likely be a key variable in investor sentiment and the sustainability of the rally in 2024. Elsewhere, China's economy continues to struggle, creating something of a macro drag on the global economy and markets. Still, we believe that high quality, well managed companies will continue to perform well as we move into a post hiking-cycle environment. Our bias for bond yields has turned bullish once again as we continue to think rate cuts are coming, and valuations have turned more attractive with excessive easing cycles being priced out. The first quarter of 2024 saw a swift erosion of the euphoria exhibited in fixed income markets at year-end in anticipation of imminent rate cuts. The low but positive growth we expect across developed markets is actually a reasonable environment for investment grade (IG) issuers, particularly the less leveraged and less cyclical names. However, global IG credit spreads ended March further below (i.e. more expensive than) their five- and 20-year averages.

Performance

In the six months to 31 March 2024, the A share class returned 19.0%. By comparison the benchmark returned 14.6%. Performance is net of fees and in euro terms. The benchmark for this Portfolio was changed to MSCI Europe NR Index on 14/10/19, previously it was the FTSE All-World Developed Europe NR.

The Portfolio outperformed the very strong recovery of European equity markets over the period. Our overweight stance in sectors boosted by the continued excitement around AI was positive. This also boosted SAP, the software group, while ASML saw strong orders for its EUV lithography equipment used to make high end semi-conductors. Cairn Homes, the Irish housebuilder, saw house prices and sales stay strong driving rising cash generation. Among the detractors were Lenzing, the textiles manufacturer, with weak results and a lacklustre outlook. The prospect of falling interest rates is less helpful for banks and DNB especially underperformed after lacklustre results. Kerry Group underperformed as investors worried about the impact of GLP-1 anti-obesity drugs on demand, despite good results. The zero exposure to defence industries was also a negative for the portfolio compared for the benchmark.

Market Review

European equities delivered strong over the six months to 31 March 2024. However, the period started amidst great uncertainly, with bond yields peaking and equity markets hitting their lows in October 2023. We now know that the European Central Bank (ECB) increase in September 2023 represented the peak for interest rates. Yet it was not until December when the US Federal Reserve surprised investors with its announcement that interest rates were set to fall in 2024. This reassured investors that inflationary pressures were set to keep falling even as the Eurozone economies narrowly avoided recession and companies delivered strong results. As a consequence, equities rallied sharply in the last part of 2023. Gains were led by technology shares fuelled by continuing excitement around AI. The start of 2024 saw the outlook continue to improve, even if the ECB pushed out interest rate cuts as growth picked up on its own accord.

Outlook

We are positive on the outlook for European equities. Economies have continued to be robust in the face of high rates especially in the US and, while we believe we are returning to an environment of slower nominal growth driven by lower inflation, expectations of the pace and magnitude of rates cuts have reduced. A more stable inflation and interest rate backdrop, means we believe, that fundamentals will drive performance rather than styles. While this is arguably reflected in US valuations, Europe remains very attractively valued and with greater weight in financials and cyclical businesses looks positioned to perform well.

Performance

Over the six months to 31 March 2024, the AAcc share class returned 19.0%. By comparison, the MSCI All Country World NR Index returned 20.1%. Performance is total return and in US dollar terms.

The fund has a dual sustainable and income mandate. It aims to provide income combined with capital growth over the long term (at least 5 years). The fund is actively managed and combines a core equity component with an active derivatives strategy to enhance income. The fund aims to provide long-term capital growth by investing primarily in sustainable investments, considered for this fund to be shares of companies that derive, or are on a credible short to medium-term pathway to derive, a significant amount of net revenue (50% or more) from activities that can be directly linked to one or more of the UN Sustainable Development Goals ("SDGs").

During this risk-on period, the value-focused strategy of the Portfolio moderately underperformed the benchmark, but demonstrating decent resilience given the underlying trends within global equity markets. As an example of this, the largest single stock detractor was not owning Nvidia (which does not pay a dividend) which performed very strongly for the benchmark amid ongoing AI demand tailwinds, but this was made up for with the ownership of Broadcom, NetApp and TSMC that performed strongly on the back of the same AI theme and good results. Low beta pharma names, such as Takeda Pharmaceutical and Pfizer underperformed within the context of the risk-on rally. Hannon Armstrong Sustainable Infrastructure was impacted by higher interest rates which knocked investors' conviction in the earnings algorithm as financing costs escalate. On the positive side Waste Management beat expectations when they reported 4Q23 earnings.

Market Review

There was a good return from global equities over the six months to 31 March 2024. The period started amidst great uncertainly, with bond yields peaking and equity markets hitting their lows for the period in October 2023. We now know that the US Federal Reserve (Fed) increase to 5.25% in July 2023 represented the peak for interest rates. However, it was not until December when the Fed surprised investors with its announcement that interest rates were set to fall in 2024. This reassured investors that inflationary pressures were set to keep falling even as the major developed economies avoided recession. As a consequence, equities rallied sharply in the last part of 2023. Gains were led by technology shares fuelled by continuing excitement around AI. The start of 2024 saw the outlook continue to improve, even if central banks pushed out interest rate cuts as growth picked up on its own accord.

Outlook

After finishing 2023 in bull market territory, global equities continued to run very hard into 2024. While the AI bull market appears overstretched in some areas, the opportunities are huge. Furthermore, calendar Q4 earnings were solid, with a significant majority of companies beating earnings expectations, and this provides fundamental support to the rally. There is increased caution in the markets around the number and speed of central bank rate cuts. Whether central banks follow through on these expected rate cuts will likely be a key variable in investor sentiment and the sustainability of the rally in 2024. Elsewhere, China's economy continues to struggle, creating something of a macro drag to the global economy and markets. Still, we believe that high quality, well managed companies will continue to perform well as we move into a post hiking cycle environment.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Presentation of financial statements

The financial statements have been presented in accordance with the reporting requirements of the Luxembourg supervisory authorities and Luxembourg generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP").

Combined accounts

The combined financial statements have been presented in Euro, the functional currency of the Fund. Where a Portfolio is denominated in a currency other than Euro, the average exchange rate has been used for the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets. The exchange rate ruling as at the reporting date has been used for the Statement of Net Assets.

Investments

As per the Prospectus and for the purpose of determining the Net Asset Value used for subscriptions and redemptions, the quoted investments and those traded in other regulated markets are valued on the basis of the last available price at 31 March 2024.

Securities which are not quoted on, or dealt, in an official or another regulated market, or securities which are so quoted or dealt in but in which the last sale price is not available, and securities for which the last sale price is not representative of the fair market value, the value of such securities will be determined based on an agreed pricing basis and the reasonably foreseeable sales price determined prudently and in good faith, upon the advice of the Investment Manager, by the Directors. Purchases and sales of investments are recognised on the trade date. Gains or losses on sales of investments are computed on the average cost basis and include transaction costs.

Investment income

Dividends are recognised in income, net of irrecoverable withholding tax, on the date upon which the relevant securities are declared "ex-dividend". Interest income, net of irrecoverable withholding tax, is accrued on a daily basis and includes the amortisation of premiums and accretion of discounts.

Translation of foreign currencies

Assets and liabilities denominated in currencies other than the Portfolios' reporting currencies have been translated at the rates of exchange ruling at 31 March 2024. Cost of investments and income and expenditure which are denominated in currencies other than the Portfolios' reporting currency have been translated at the exchange rates ruling on the day of transaction. The exchange gain or loss arising from the translation of these items is taken into account in the determination of the results of operations. The average USD/EUR exchange rate during the period was 0.925514. The USD/EUR exchange rate as at 31 March 2024 was 0.925926.

Cross portfolio investments

At 31 March 2024 there were no cross investments.

Futures contracts on securities and indices

Initial margin deposits are made upon entering into futures contracts and can be made either in cash or securities. During the period the futures contract is open, changes in the value of the contract are recognised as unrealised gains or losses by "marking-to-market" on a daily basis to reflect the market value of the contract at the end of each day's trading. Variation margin payments are made or received, depending upon whether unrealised losses or gains are incurred. When the contract is closed, the Fund records a realised gain or loss equal to the difference between the proceeds from (or cost of) the closing transaction and the Fund's basis in the contract.

as at 31 March 2024

Forward foreign exchange contracts

The unrealised gain or loss on open forward foreign exchange contracts is calculated as the difference between the contracted rate and the rate to close out the contract. Realised profit or loss includes net gains or losses on forward foreign exchange contracts which have been settled or offset by other contracts with the same counterparty.

Options Purchased and Options Written

The premium paid for options purchased is recorded as an investment and is subsequently adjusted to the current market value of the option. Premiums paid for the purchase of options which expire unexercised are treated as realised losses on the expiration date. If a purchased put option is exercised, the premium is subtracted from the proceeds of the sale of the underlying security, foreign currency or index, in determining whether the relevant Portfolio has realised a gain or a loss. If a purchased call option is exercised, the premium increases the cost basis of the security, foreign currency or index purchased by the Portfolio.

For a written option, an amount equal to the premium received by the relevant Portfolio is recorded as a liability and is subsequently adjusted to the current market value of the option written. Premiums received from written options which expire unexercised are treated by the relevant Portfolio as realised gains on the expiration date. If a written call option is exercised, the premium is added to the proceeds from the sale of the underlying security in determining whether the relevant Portfolio has realised a gain or a loss. If a written put option is exercised, the premium reduces the cost basis of the security purchased by the relevant Portfolio.

Future style options

In the case of options on futures, no premium margin is required as a daily profit and loss adjustment (variation margin) is made by the procedure known as "marking-to-market". The profit of one party to the contract is the loss of the other party. The resulting gains and losses are either debited or credited to the appropriate account on a daily basis via the mark-to-market process. The final valuation is made at the final settlement price of either the expiration date of the option or the day on which it was exercised.

Swap contracts

The Fund may enter into swap contracts in which the Fund and the counterparty agree to exchange payments (periodically throughout the life of the contract) where one or both parties pay the returns generated by a security, index commodities, or instruments on an agreed upon notional amount. The relevant indices include, but are not limited to, currencies, interest rates, prices and total return on interest rates indices, fixed income indices and stock indices. Swaps are valued at their fair value based on the underlying securities (at close of business or intraday) as well as on the characteristics of the underlying commitments.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and other liquid assets are valued at their face value, including interest accrued, where applicable. Interest is also accrued on bank overdrafts. All cash at bank is held either directly with a sub-depositary or by State Street Bank International GmbH, Luxembourg Branch, on overnight deposit with a third party institution which has been approved by the Board. The cash collateral in relations to the futures contracts, swaps, forward foreign exchange contracts and options are included in the statement of net assets respectively under "Cash held at brokers" and "Amounts due to brokers".

Income and receivable from securities lending

The Fund may lend its portfolio securities to specialised banks and credit institutions and other financial institutions of high standing and highly qualified registered brokers/dealers or through recognised clearing institutions such as Clearstream or Euroclear subject to complying with the provisions set forth in the CSSF Circular 08/356. Loans will be secured continuously by eligible collateral authorised from time to time by the CSSF. During the whole period of lending, collateral must be at least equal to the value of the global valuation of the securities lent. Each counterparty will possess an industry standard credit rating that is acceptable to the Investment Manager with reference to the market conditions prevailing at the relevant time.

Total amount of "Security lending income": 61,688 EUR

Total amount of "Security lending receivable": 29,620 EUR

As at 31 March, 2024, total amount of "Security lending receivable" is included in "Other assets".

Net amortization/Net accretion

Net amortization/Net accretion, includes the amortization and accretion of premiums / discounts from both, the long and short term fixed income securities. Interest income, net of irrecoverable withholding tax, is accrued on a daily basis and includes the amortisation of premiums and accretion of discounts. All components are netted and disclosed in the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets as a positive sum under the income position "Net amortization/ Net accretion" and as a negative sum under the expense position "Net amortization / Net accretion". Net amortization / Net accretion are calculated on straight line basis.

3. EQUALISATION

The Fund follows the accounting practice known as "equalisation" by which a portion of the issue and redemption price representing, on a per share basis, accrued distributable investment income (excluding capital gains or losses), is credited or charged to distributable income. The amounts attributable to this income equalisation account are included in the proceeds from subscriptions to the Fund's shares or in the payment for the Fund's shares redeemed, and in the "Net equalisation", items of the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets.

4. INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT FEES

The Fund entered into an agreement with the Management Company and Columbia Threadneedle Management Limited ("CTML") to act as investment manager to the following Portfolios for a monthly fee calculated on the average of the net asset value of each of the following Portfolios managed by it during the preceding month at the following rates:

15. SWING PRICING

Under certain circumstances (for example, large volumes of deals), investment and/or disinvestment costs may have an adverse effect on the Shareholders' interests in a Portfolio. In order to prevent this effect, called "dilution", the Board may determine that a "swing pricing" methodology applies so as to allow for the Net Asset Value per Share to be adjusted upwards or downwards by dealing and other costs and fiscal charges which would be payable on the effective acquisition or disposal of assets in the relevant Portfolio if the net capital activity exceeds, as a consequence of the aggregate transactions in that Portfolio on a given Valuation Date (as defined in the Prospectus), a threshold (the "Threshold") set by the Board from time to time.

as at 31 March 2024

Description of the swing pricing methodology:

If the net capital activity on a given Valuation Date leads to a net inflow/outflow of assets in excess of the Threshold in the relevant Portfolio, the Net Asset Value used to process all subscriptions, redemptions or conversions in that Portfolio is adjusted upwards/downwards by the swing factor set by the Board from time to time.

The swing factor shall not exceed 2% of the Net Asset Value per Share of the relevant Portfolio. Further, for the purpose of calculating the expenses of a Portfolio which are based on the Net Asset Value of the relevant Portfolio (including any applicable performance fee), the Administrative Agent will continue to use the un-swung Net Asset Value.

The swing pricing mechanism was in place for all sub funds during the financial period.

18. SOCIALLY RESPONSIBLE INVESTMENT

CTML is convinced that investors increasingly care about environmental, social and corporate governance (ESG) issues and that these may have a material impact on the companies in which we invest. Therefore the Fund has appointed CTML to engage with companies held by the portfolios in order to improve the ESG performance and safeguard investor value. The Responsible Engagement Overlay service, known as reo®, aims to encourage companies to behave more responsibly with regard to social, environmental and corporate issues, in ways that are consistent with shareholder values. The objective of reo® is to encourage investee companies to enhance their business performance by adopting better corporate governance, social and environmental practices. reo® does not entail taking a view of acceptability of what investee companies do nor does it lead to exercising a significant influence over the management of such companies. reo® is about using CTML ability, as manager of the Fund's equity and bond Portfolios, to encourage investee companies, through a constructive dialogue, to behave more responsibly with regard to corporate governance, social and environmental practices. In CTML's view, reo® may contribute towards business success and therefore increase the value of the investee companies' shares and consequently the value of the Fund's investments. More information on reo® and the specific companies engaged via the reo® service is available on www.columbiathreadneedle.com.

The Board of Directors of the Management Company is responsible for the design, implementation and regular review of the Remuneration Policy. In reviewing the Remuneration Policy, the Board of Directors of the Management Company will consider whether the remuneration framework operates as intended and ensure that the risk profile, long-term objectives and goals of the Fund are adequately reflected. No material amendments were made to the Remuneration Policy and no irregularities were uncovered during the period under review.

In accordance with the UCITS V Directive, the Investment Managers to the Fund have adopted a remuneration policy which is consistent with the remuneration principles applicable to UCITS management companies and aligned with the Fund Threadneedle Investments (EMEA) Remuneration Policy. - (a) to be consistent with, and promote, sound and effective risk management;
- (b) to be in line with the business strategy, objectives, values and interests of the ACD;

(d) to provide a framework for remuneration to attract, motivate and retain staff (including directors) to which the policy applies in order to achieve the objectives of the ACD; and

(e) to ensure that any relevant conflicts of interest can be managed appropriately at all times.

Decision making and governance

The board of directors (the "Board") of the ACD is responsible for the remuneration policy of the ACD and for determining the remuneration of the directors of the ACD and other staff who undertake professional activities for the ACD. The Board has delegated to the EMEA Remuneration Committee (the "Committee") of Columbia Threadneedle Asset Management (Holdings) plc responsibility for maintaining a compliant remuneration policy. The Committee solely comprises non-executive directors of Columbia Threadneedle Asset Management (Holdings) plc. The Board has adopted the remuneration policy applicable to all members of the Group ("Columbia Threadneedle Asset Management (EMEA)") for this financial year as reviewed and approved by the Committee periodically (at least annually). The Committee is responsible for, and oversees, the implementation of the remuneration policy in line with the UCITS Regulations. The Board considers that the members of the Committee have appropriate expertise in risk management and remuneration to perform this review.

Applicability

The remuneration policy, which incorporates compliance with UCITS V requirements, applies to staff whose professional activities have a material impact on the risk profile of the ACD or of the funds it manages ("Identified Staff") and so covers:

- a) senior management;
- b) risk takers;
- c) control functions; and
- d) employees receiving total remuneration that takes them into the same remuneration bracket as senior management and risk takers, whose professional activities have a material impact on the risk profile of the ACD.

The Identified Staff list and the selection criteria above are subject to regular review (at least annually) by the Committee as well as formally reviewed in the event of significant organisation changes and changes in remuneration regulations the ACD is subject to

Linking remuneration with performance

The ACD's remuneration policy is part of the Columbia Threadneedle Asset Management (EMEA) framework for promoting sound remuneration management, with the objective of providing total compensation to its employees that is warranted by corporate, business unit/function and individual performance and is comparable to market competitors, whilst being consistent with and promoting sound and effective risk management and the achievement of fair outcomes for all customers. Its purpose is to facilitate achievement of the business objectives and corporate values of the ACD, with the primary focus on clients, whilst ensuring that Columbia Threadneedle Asset Management (EMEA) is able to attract, retain and motivate the key talent required to achieve these business objectives and corporate values without incentivising excessive or inappropriate risk.

When setting remuneration levels, the following components and principles form part of the remuneration management framework:

- Fixed remuneration is determined taking into account factors including the requirements of the particular role and the staff member's experience, expertise, contribution level and the fixed pay for comparable roles. Fixed remuneration is set, with reference to market data, at a level that is sufficient to attract high calibre staff as well as to permit the operation of a fully-flexible remuneration policy (including the possibility of a staff member receiving reduced or no variable remuneration in a particular year). The Committee keeps the balance between fixed and variable remuneration under review.
- Variable remuneration is determined annually by reference to both financial and non-financial ACD performance considerations.
 External competitor practices are included in the funding review to ensure compensation opportunities in the markets within which the ACD operates are given due consideration and retention risks are effectively managed. Incentive funding is developed in view of current and projected economics and risks, supported by Columbia Threadneedle Asset Management (EMEA) Audit and Compliance Committee inputs, ensuring risk-adjustments and qualitative and quantitative considerations, such as the cost and quantity of capital and liquidity are actively considered as funding adjustments. The Committee ensures that all incentive awards are not paid through vehicles or methods that facilitate the avoidance of the requirements with regard to remuneration imposed by applicable law and/or regulations.
- Variable remuneration is allocated to respective business functions by reference to:
 - · contribution of the respective business function or unit to corporate performance;
 - business function performance relative to pre-determined targets and objectives, including adherence to risk management obligations; and
 - competitive market pay data.

Individual award allocations are referenced to the individual achievement during the performance year relative to pre-agreed objectives and assessment of market comparability. Performance is assessed in relation to pre-agreed objectives, which include financial and non-financial goals (including the achievement of fair customer outcomes), compliance with the Group's policies and procedures, adherence to risk management and compliance requirements and the Group's Code of Conduct. The assessment of performance for Identified Staff reflects multi-year performance in a manner appropriate to the life-cycle of the funds that are managed by the ACD.

 Application of Financial Conduct Authority's Handbook (SYSC 19E: UCITS Remuneration Code) pay-out process rules, save for disapplication at individual or ACD level, which is determined by an annual proportionality assessment.

The table below provides an overview of aggregate total remuneration paid to UCITS Identified Staff in respect of the proportion of their pay aligned to their UCITS responsibilities. It is not possible to apportion remuneration by individual Identified Staff working a specific UCITS fund, therefore figures are provided in aggregate on a UCITS management ACD basis.

Columbia Threadneedle Management Limited	Headcount	Fixed Remuneration (£m)	Variable Remuneration (£m)	Total Remuneration (£m)
Remuneration of UCITS Identified Staff of which:	41	0.82	0.99	1.81
