Risk and reward profile

The calculation of the risk and reward profile is based on historical data that cannot be used as a reliable indicator for the future risk profile. This risk indicator is subject to changes; the classification of the fund may change over time and cannot be guaranteed. Even a fund that is classified in the lowest category (category 1) does not represent a completely risk-free investment. The fund is classified in category 4 because its share price fluctuates and the likelihood of both losses and gains may therefore be relatively high. The following are key risks for the fund and are not covered adequately by the risk and reward profile:

The fund invests a substantial portion in bonds, the value of which depends on whether the issuer is able to afford its payments. The risk of default is continuously present and can cause your investment to suffer a loss. The fund concludes derivative transactions with various contractual partners to a significant extent. If the contractual partner cannot afford any payments (e.g. due to insolvency), this can cause your investment to suffer a loss. The fund uses derivative transactions to a large extent to achieve higher appreciations. The increased opportunities are accompanied by increased risk of loss, therefore changes in value of the underlying instruments may negatively impact the value of the derivative. Due to its structure, a derivative may have a stronger impact on funds than is the case if an underlying instrument is acquired directly.
