Fidelity Funds - Absolute Return Multi Strategy Fund

a sub-fund of Fidelity Funds

W-ACC-GBP (GBP/USD hedged) (ISIN: LU1989786808)

This fund is managed by FIL Investment Management (Luxembourg) S.A.

Objectives and Investment Policy

- The fund aims to provide a positive absolute return with low correlation to traditional asset classes over the medium to long term.
- The fund will invest in multiple strategies to achieve its objective. These will be diversified and include arbitrage, equity hedge, fixed income and macro strategies. Arbitrage strategies aim to profit from the price difference between instruments that are related and judged to be mispriced. This may involve the simultaneous purchase and sale of related financial instruments. Equity hedge strategies aim to profit from identifying undervalued stocks and either selling overvalued stocks or hedging the market risk associated with the undervalued stocks. Fixed Income and Macro strategies are grouped together as strategies can cross both disciplines. Fixed Income strategies aim to produce consistent returns either within fixed income markets or through relative value strategies within markets such as corporate and emerging market bonds. Macro strategies traditionally use a top-down approach which studies macro-economic and political factors to invest in different asset classes across global markets.
- Allocation to these strategies will be adjusted over time.
- The fund will invest, in a range of global assets including bonds (such as sovereign, investment grade and sub-investment grade bonds), currencies, shares of companies, commodities, infrastructure, real estate investment trusts (REITs) and cash.
- This region includes countries considered to be emerging markets.
- Less than 30% of the fund's total net assets will be invested in hybrids and Cocos, with less than 20% of the total net assets to be invested in Cocos.
- The fund has the freedom to invest outside its principal geographies, market sectors, industries or asset classes.
- The fund will invest less than 30% of its net assets directly in China A and B shares and/or onshore China bonds listed or traded on any Eligible Market in China.
- The fund's exposure to Distressed Securities is limited to 10% of its assets.
- The fund will make use of derivatives including more complex instruments or strategies to meet its investment objectives in line with the fund's risk profile. The types of derivatives used include but are not limited to, index, basket or single name futures, forwards, swaps (such as interest rate, credit default, inflation index, and total return swaps), options, swaptions, and contracts for difference. Derivatives are used to achieve indirect exposure to the main assets listed above, to generate additional capital or income in line with the fund's risk profile or with the aim of risk or cost reduction.
- The reference currency of the fund is hedged to the reference currency of the share class. This hedging has the effect of translating (or "replicating") the returns expressed in the fund's reference currency into returns expressed in the reference currency of the share class.
- Income earned by the fund is accumulated in the share price.
- The fund is actively managed and references the SONIA (GBP) (the "Index") by seeking to outperform it. The Investment Manager has full discretion over the composition of the fund's portfolio and is not constrained in any way by the Index. There are no restrictions on the extent to which the fund's performance may deviate from that of the Index.
- Shares can usually be bought and sold each business day of the fund.

Risk and Reward Profile

- Historical data may not be a reliable indication for the future.
- The risk category shown is not guaranteed and may change over time.
- The lowest category does not mean a "risk free" investment.
- The risk and reward profile is classified by the level of historical fluctuation of the Net Asset Values of the share class, and within this classification, categories 1-2 indicate a low level of historical fluctuations, 3-5 a medium level and 6-7 a high level.
- The value of your investment may fall as well as rise and you may get back less than you originally invested.
- The fund may invest in instruments denominated in currencies other than the fund base currency. Changes in currency exchange rates can therefore affect the value of your investment.
- Currency hedging may be used which aims to reduce the effect of such changes. However, the effects may not be completely eliminated to the degree expected.
- The use of derivatives may result in "leverage" by which we mean a level of exposure which could expose the fund to the potential of greater gains or losses than would otherwise be the case.
- There is a risk that the issuers of bonds may not be able to repay the money they have borrowed or make interest payments. While we seek to mitigate this, the fund may be exposed to the risk of financial loss if it invests into an instrument issued by an entity that subsequently defaults on its borrowings. Losses may also be realised if an entity that the fund is exposed to ceases to make interest payments over a period of time or indefinitely. Bond prices have an inverse relationship with interest rates such that when interest rates rise, bonds may fall in value. Rising interest rates may cause the value of your investment to fall.
- Liquidity is a measure of how easily an investment can be converted into cash. Under certain market conditions assets may be more difficult to value or sell at a desired price. This could affect the fund's ability to meet redemptions in a timely manner.
- Emerging markets may be more volatile and it could be harder to sell or trade securities. There may be less supervision, regulation and less well-defined procedures than in more developed countries. Emerging markets can be sensitive to political instability, which can result in greater volatility and uncertainty, subjecting the fund to the risk of losses.
- In some emerging markets, such as Russia, the safeguarding provisions for securities benefit from less governed standards.
- The fund may be exposed to the risk of financial loss if a counterparty used for derivative instruments subsequently defaults.
