GQG Global UCITS ICAV (the "ICAV") is an open-ended umbrella ICAV with segregated liability between its sub-funds. The ICAV was registered under the Irish Collective Asset-management Vehicles Act 2015 and 2021 (the "ICAV Act") on 27 October 2016 and received authorisation from the Central Bank of Ireland on 25 January 2017 as an Undertaking for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities ("UCITS") in accordance with the provisions of the European Communities (undertakings for collective investment in transferable securities) Regulation 2011, (as amended) (the "UCITS Regulations").

The instrument of incorporation ("Instrument") provides that the ICAV may offer separate classes of shares, each representing interests in a fund, with each fund comprising a separate and distinct portfolio of investments. The assets of each Fund will be invested separately on behalf of each fund in accordance with the investment objective and policies of each fund and the assets and liabilities of each fund are segregated as a matter of Irish law. The value of the shares of each Fund shall at all times equal their net asset value. The base currency of each fund will be determined by the Directors and will be set out in the Prospectus and/or Supplement for the relevant Fund.

Investment Objective and Policy

The investment objectives and policies for the Funds are formulated by the ICAV at the time of creation of the Funds and will be specified in the relevant Supplement to the Prospectus. The investment objectives for the Funds are set out below.

GQG Partners Emerging Markets Equity Fund

The Fund's investment objective is to provide capital appreciation over the long-term.

The investment policies of the Fund are as follows:

Under normal circumstances, the Fund will invest at least 80% of its net assets in equity and equity related securities of emerging market companies.

The equity securities in which the Fund will invest are primarily publicly traded common stocks. Equity and equity related securities include depositary receipts (including American Depositary Receipts ("ADRs"), European Depositary Receipts ("EDRs") and Global Depositary Receipts ("GDRs")), which are certificates typically issued by a bank or trust company that represent ownership interests in securities of non-U.S. companies, and Participatory Notes ("P-Notes"), which are derivative instruments designed to replicate equity exposure in certain foreign markets, for example Bangladesh, India, Pakistan, Saudi Arabia, South Korea and Taiwan. P-Notes will be used as a means of investment where direct investment is either impossible or unduly difficult due to local investment restrictions. Such P-Notes will not embed leverage. The Fund may invest in securities of companies with any market capitalisation. The Fund may also invest in securities listed on the Russian market as listed in the Prospectus without restriction. In addition, the Fund may gain exposure to Chinese securities by utilising the StockConnect Programme to purchase China A shares. The Fund may also invest in other UCITS and ETFs, up to 10% of its net assets, and equity and equity related securities that are issued by companies in developed countries.

The Fund may also retain up to 100% of its Net Asset Value in cash or cash equivalents which shall include, but shall not be limited to, short-term fixed income securities including Money Market Instruments, pending reinvestment or for use as collateral, arising from the Fund's use of Financial Derivative Instruments ("FDIs") if this is considered appropriate to the investment objective.

The Fund may engage in securities lending for efficient portfolio management only.

The Fund may invest in initial public offerings ("IPOs").

GQG Partners Global Equity Fund

The Fund's investment objective is to seek long term capital appreciation.

The investment policies of the Fund are as follows:

The Fund may invest in equity securities or equity-linked instruments, including common stock, preferred stock and options, of companies located anywhere in the world, including, but not limited to, Emerging Markets Countries and the United States. This Fund has no limitation on the capitalization size of the companies in which it invests, the industry focus of companies invested in nor on its ability to invest in securities issued from any country. The Fund will invest in various countries and various industries. The Fund will also invest in equity related securities including depositary receipts (including American Depositary Receipts ("ADRs"), European Depositary Receipts ("EDRs") and Global Depositary Receipts ("GDRs")), which are certificates typically issued by a bank or trust company that represent ownership interests in securities of non-U.S. companies.

The Fund may use the following derivative securities for investment purposes: P-Notes (as defined above) and/or Low Exercise Price Options ("LEPOs"), collectively known as "Synthetic Equities", where the use of such securities is consistent with the Fund's Strategies. The Fund may use Synthetic Equities primarily to gain access to securities which may be otherwise inaccessible to foreign investors or too costly for direct access to the underlying securities, such as due to market registration issues. For P-Notes, these countries include Bangladesh, China, India, Pakistan, Saudi Arabia, South Korea and Taiwan. Some Synthetic Equities are instruments that attempt to replicate ownership of an underlying equity security in foreign stock markets where non-resident shareholders are unable to own shares directly or find it advantageous to own shares through this indirect vehicle. Such Synthetic Equities will not embed leverage. The Fund's use of Synthetic Equities is subject to a limit of 15% of Net Asset Value.

Investment Management

GQG Partners LLC serves as Investment Manager pursuant to an investment management agreement dated 25 January 2017.

Investment Manager's Report

As we close the first half of 2024 with mostly positive equity markets around the world, we would like to briefly review our performance in recent periods.

For the year-to-date timeframe ending 30 June 2024, each of our four core strategy composites posted strong absolute and relative returns. The absolute returns ranged from 16.09 per cent (Emerging Markets) to 26.46 per cent (US), while the relative outperformance ranged from +861 bps (Emerging Markets) to +1173 bps (Global).

For the trailing 12-month period ending 30 June 2024, each of our four core strategy composites demonstrated very strong absolute and relative net of fee returns. The absolute returns ranged from 29.68 per cent (International) to 38.52 per cent (US), while the relative outperformance ranged from +1,396 bps (US) to +2,066 bps (Emerging Markets).

We remain bullish on the US and emerging markets, particularly India and Brazil. From a sector perspective, we remain overweight technology in each of the core strategies and health care in our developed market strategies, while underweight consumer discretionary, financials, and industrials.

There are only two things, in our opinion, that continue to matter globally in 2024: Nvidia and Taylor Swift. All joking aside, while both NVDIA CEO Jensen Huang and Taylor Swift continue to dominate the earnings picture, we did add to areas like consumer staples in 2024, where we view the steady eddy compounding nature of global brands such as Coca-Cola to be not only diversifying to our portfolio but also trading at reasonable valuations relative to their 10-year averages.

While we recognise a changing risk landscape-including global elections, regulatory developments, and geopolitical uncertaintywe continue to hold our often-cited view of "calibrated optimism".

With that being said, let's run through some "frequently asked questions", predominantly as they relate to things we own versus things we do not own (or do not own much of).

Around the Horn

As global equity investors with one team covering both developed and emerging markets, we always remind folks that we find this relationship to be symbiotic. In our view, being informed emerging market investors makes us better developed market investors, and vice versa. Though we apply a global lens to investing, that does not mean we want to own the entire universe.

Starting in Asia, one of the primary questions we receive is on our views of Japan, particularly in light of recent changes to monetary policy as well as equity market performance reaching multi-decade highs.¹

While Japan has done well from an MSCI Index perspective, it has been outpaced quite significantly by some of its developing market peers, especially India and Taiwan, as shown below.

Asian Broad Equity Index Returns
COUNTRY / REGION	3 MO	YTD	1Y	3Y*	5Y*
MSCI China NR USD	7.1		1.6	17.7	4.3
MSCI Hong Kong NR USD	0.9	10.8	18.0	14.1	7.0
MSCI Japan NR USD	4.3	6.3	13.1	2.3	6.6
MSCI India NR USD	10.2		34.4
MSCI Taiwan NR USD	15.1	29.4	40.7		21.2
MSCI Korea NR USD	1.2	0.4	8.1	9.1	4.6

Over the past several years, our portfolios have generally been underweight Japan. That has gone largely unchanged, given that the Japanese market tends to be dominated by cyclicals and many higher quality companies in Japan tend to trade at premiums to their global peers. So, while we actually do quite like Japan as tourists, given the abundance of cheap goods for non-Yen holders, we continue to find better opportunities elsewhere from an investment perspective.

Staying in Asia, we have become less negative on China at the margin, but our view is that much uncertainty remains regarding earnings growth. There have been some green shoots across narrow areas, such as gaming, with gaming approvals so far this year tracking above those of the last several calendar years. However, we believe every company in China is now functionally a State-Owned Enterprise ("SOE"), with CCP representation in the boardroom of private sector companies. Beyond this, a large crackdown on "conspicuous consumption" appears to have accelerated. We understand that Chinese social media platforms like Weibo, Tencent, Douyin, and Xiaohongshu removing user posts that flaunt personal wealth and opulence, appearing to be part of a broader effort to "purify the internet cultural environment".² We do think this has overarching implications as well, particularly in luxury goods, which could be a net negative for high-end producers selling into China.

Even though we do not think things will get materially worse in China from an economic data perspective, it is hard to see things getting meaningfully better either. Contrast that with the likes of India, where we remain very sanguine and maintain broad-based exposure across infrastructure assets, banks, commodities, and communication services.

Switching gears over to Europe, perhaps the largest developments were less investment-related in nature but more political, as both the UK and France announced snap elections during the quarter.

In the UK, the losing party, the Conservatives, got 18 per cent of the seats in the UK general elections and many headlines were written as a total "landslide defeat". They're not incorrect, given that this was the worst defeat since the party began over 130 years ago. However, contrast that with the Indian elections, which also took place during the quarter, where the press characterised an 18 per cent total seat grab for the opposition party as a loss for the incumbent Modi's BJP party! Press coverage for Modi is particularly distorted, in our view. Thankfully, though, we think this continues to create a very attractive investment landscape for folks who can ignore this distorted narrative. From our Indian holdings, Adani is a prime example of that, in our opinion, and we remain confident in the exposure we have, as noted earlier.

Over in France, pollsters have generally been off the mark since Macron called for the snap elections back in June 2024. Up until the actual second round voting took place on 7 July 2024, Marine Le Pen's National Rally was expected to receive the most seats. However, the left wing New Popular Front ended up with the most seats thus leaving the country with its most divided parliament in decades.

From an exposure perspective, our European holdings remain very global in their earnings stream, from healthcare to staples as well as semiconductors and oil and gas, so again we are less concerned about any one or two jurisdictions but given the uncertainty that these events have created, these are certainly risks that must be monitored.

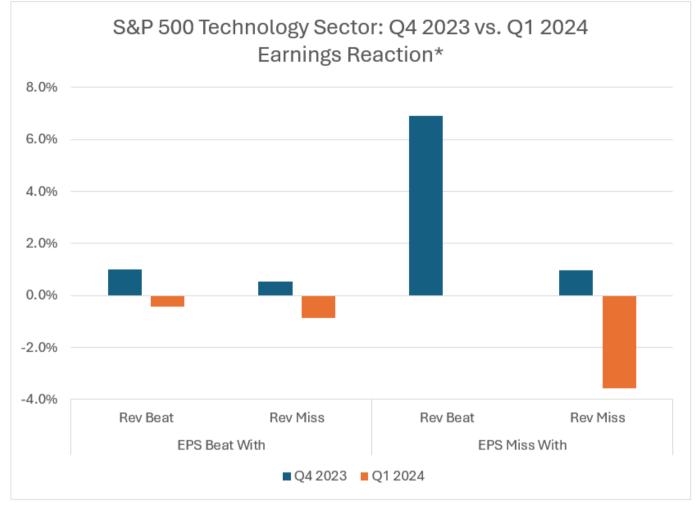

Whether it is Nvidia, GLP-1s, Mag 7, or Fab 5, AI, "narrow markets", or politics, narratives are powerful. They are also often felt most acutely in the US, which has been the case this year.

From our perspective, there is not a lot of "news" here because markets are almost always narrow. It is quite rare to have full breadth and depth across markets because there are almost always winners outpacing others. What in our view is important, however, is how bifurcated markets have become, particularly after a decent period of uniformity, and that became more pronounced this quarter.

There is no doubt valuations in the US are on the higher side, but this also comes with a lot of high quality, extremely well-run businesses, in our view. For something like AI specifically, this is one of the few areas where we saw changes during the first half of the year. Given the stickiness of many software businesses, our view six to nine months ago was that there would be some key winners in the AI space. However, across the earnings landscape, there were a variety of misses, suggesting that fundamentals were not keeping up and winners were not nearly as uniform as originally suggested. Furthermore, the market's reaction to both revenue and EPS misses for the US technology sector were nearly night and day from Q4 2023 to Q1 2024, as highlighted below.³ But context here is key because not everything gets caught up in the downdraft.

Source: S&P CapIQ. 15 June 2024. *no data reported for the Q1 2024 rev beat and eps miss column. Price action represents average relative price performance from one day before to close of earnings report date.

Contrast the fundamentals of many of the software companies with that of Nvidia, whose earnings continue to be robust. They are a clear winner, in our view, on AI implementation and there has been virtually no multiple expansion from when we purchased it in 2023 (~30x forward). Therefore, we reduced our software exposure and re-calibrated into names we already own, such as Nvidia and even the Eli Lilly's of the world, while adding some consumer staples as well, as noted earlier.

Perhaps some of you are thinking that staples side by side with GLP-1s is bit strange, given the prevailing narrative that more folks taking GLP-1s will "eat into" the profits of those staples. That may be somewhat true in the short run, as folks adjust to the drugs, but we think that spending will shift to other categories or "healthier" options from these companies over time. In fact, Nestlé is just now rolling out a US product suite, its first in nearly three decades, to cater to the Zepbound/Ozempic crowd. Markets and businesses tend to adapt to the prevailing conditions, and we believe this will be the case over time.⁴ Furthermore, on the GLP-1 front, we continue to see data that underpins our view that we have not scratched the surface in terms of folks using these wonder drugs and their myriad benefits, such as the most recent one from Eli Lilly showing efficacy across sleep apnea.⁵

Data Dependent

While we have experienced somewhat calm waters so far this year, we are mindful that nothing is risk-free. We are quite proud of our overall performance, but of course, we know this will not always be the case, and we fully expect major events to navigate as we make our way through the second half of this year. What precise events will be thrown at us, who knows, but that is also why an ark is built prior to the rain, not during it. In our view, portfolio management is quite similar—we do not need to predict events; we simply need to prepare for them, and we will continue to watch the data to tell us what type of weather may be ahead.

As always, thank you for your continued support.

a) Basis of Preparation

These condensed financial statements for the financial period ended 30 June 2024 have been prepared in accordance with IAS 34 'Interim Financial Reporting' and interpretations adopted by the International Accounting Standards Board ("IASB"), and Irish statute comprising the Irish Collective Asset-management Vehicles Act 2015 and 2021 and pursuant to the European Communities (Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities) Regulations 2011(as amended) (the "UCITS Regulations") and the Central Bank (Supervision and Enforcement) Act 2013 (Section 48(1)) (Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities) Regulations").

They should be read in conjunction with the Annual Report and Audited Financial Statements for the financial year ended 31 December 2023, which were prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") as adopted by the European Union ("EU").

The preparation of these condensed financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires the ICAV to make use of estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the Financial Statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Although these estimates are based on management's best knowledge of the amount, event or actions, actual results ultimately may differ from those estimates.

In preparing the Unaudited Statement of Cash Flow under IFRS, cash and cash equivalents include cash at bank and in hand, highly liquid interest bearing securities with original maturities of three months or less and bank overdrafts.

The financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis.

Comparative Figures

The comparative figures for the Financial Statements are for the financial year ended 31 December 2023 and financial period ended 30 June 2023. The format of comparative disclosures has been amended to be consistent with the current period format of presentation.

2. Taxation

The ICAV is an investment undertaking as defined in Section 739B of the Taxes Consolidation Act 1997, as amended ("TCA"). The ICAV and its Funds will not be liable to Irish tax in respect of its income and gains, other than on the occurrence of a chargeable event.

Generally a chargeable event arises on any distribution, redemption, repurchase, cancellation, transfer of shares or on the ending of a "Relevant Period". A "Relevant Period" being an eight year period beginning with the acquisition of the shares by the Shareholder and each subsequent period of eight years beginning immediately after the preceding Relevant Period.

A gain on a chargeable event does not arise in respect of:

- i) A shareholder who is not an Irish resident and not ordinarily resident in Ireland at the time of the chargeable event provided the necessary signed statutory declarations are held by the ICAV and its Funds;
- ii) Certain exempted Irish resident investors who have provided the ICAV and its Funds with the necessary signed statutory declaration;
- iii) Any transactions in relation to shares held in a recognised clearing system as designated by order of the Revenue Commissioners of Ireland;
- iv) An exchange of shares representing one Fund for another Fund of the ICAV;
- v) An exchange of shares arising on a qualifying amalgamation or reconstruction of the ICAV with another ICAV; or
- vi) Certain exchanges of shares between spouses and former spouses.

In the absence of an appropriate declaration, the ICAV and its Funds will be liable to Irish tax on the occurrence of a chargeable event. There were no chargeable events during the financial period.

Capital gains, dividends, and interest received by the Funds may be subject to withholding taxes imposed by the country of origin and such taxes may not be recoverable by the Funds or its shareholders.

Performance Fees

In addition to the Investment Management Fee, the Investment Manager is entitled to a performance fee (the "Performance Fee") in relation to certain Classes of the Funds. The Performance Fee will currently only be payable out of the net assets attributable to Class P of the Funds.

For the six months ended 30 June 2024

The Performance Fee shall be calculated and shall accrue at the valuation point and the accrual will be reflected in the Net Asset Value per Share of the Funds. The performance period of the Funds is every 12 months ending on the last business day of each calendar year (the "Performance Period"). The Performance Fee, if any, shall crystallise on the last valuation point of each Performance Period. The Performance Fee for all relevant Classes subject to such a Fee for each Performance Period shall be equal to 20% of the amount, if any, by which the Net Asset Value before Performance Fee accrual (to the extent it is in Shareholders' best interests) of the Class exceeds the indexed Net Asset Value of the Class on the last business day of the Performance Period. In addition, the Performance Fee with respect to any redemptions of Shares during the Performance Period will crystallise and typically become payable within 30 days from the end of the calendar quarter which the relevant redemptions have taken place.

For the avoidance of doubt any underperformance versus the benchmark must be recouped before any additional Performance Fee will accrue in subsequent Performance Periods. Furthermore, a Performance Fee will only be paid on the amount by which the Net Asset Value exceeds the indexed Net Asset Value of the Funds. Please refer to the Prospectus for further detail of the Performance Fee calculation.

For the purposes of the performance fee calculation, the Net Asset Value shall be calculated after the accrual of all other costs and net of any performance fee paid in respect of previous Performance Periods, but before the deduction of any accrual for Performance Fee for the Performance Period provided it is in Shareholders' best interests (i.e. it would result in Shareholders paying less fees), other than Performance Fees accrued in relation to the class in respect of redemptions during the Performance Period but not yet paid.

For the GQG Partners Global Equity Fund, the benchmark used to calculate the Performance Fee is the MSCI All Country World (Net) Index; ticker M1WD.

9. Fair Value Measurement

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to settle a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the date of measurement. Investments held by the Funds are measured at fair value through profit or loss and are therefore affected by inputs to valuation techniques used in arriving at that fair value.

Most of the Funds' financial instruments are carried at fair value through profit or loss on the Statement of Financial Position. Usually the fair value of the financial instruments can be reliably determined within a reasonable range of estimates. For certain other financial instruments, including amounts for other assets, accrued expenses and payable for securities purchased, the carrying amounts approximate fair value due to the immediate or short-term nature of these financial instruments. The carrying value of all the Funds' financial assets and liabilities at the Statement of Financial Position date approximate their fair values.

9. Fair Value Measurement (Continued)

In order to evaluate the nature and extent of risk arising from the valuation of these investments they have been arranged, in accordance with IFRS, into a hierarchy giving the highest priority to unadjusted prices in active markets (Level 1 measurement) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurement).

The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are as follows:

- Level 1: Quoted price (unadjusted) in an active market for an identical instrument;
- Level 2: Valuation techniques based on observable inputs, either directly (for example as prices) or indirectly (for example derived from prices). This category includes instruments valued using: quoted prices in active markets for similar instruments, quoted prices for identical or similar instruments in markets that are considered less than active or valuation techniques for which all significant inputs are directly or indirectly observable from market data; and
- Level 3: Valuation techniques using significant unobservable inputs. This category includes all instruments for which the valuation technique includes inputs not based on observable data and the unobservable inputs have a significant effect on the investment's valuation. This category includes instruments that are valued based on quoted prices for similar instruments for which significant unobservable adjustments or assumptions are required to reflect differences between the instruments.

Inputs are used in applying the various valuation techniques and broadly refer to the assumptions that market participants use to make valuation decisions, including assumptions about risk. Inputs may include price information, volatility statistics, specific and broad credit data, liquidity statistics and other factors. A financial instrument's level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement.

The determination of what constitutes 'observable' requires significant judgement by the Funds. The Funds consider observable data to be that market data which is readily available, regularly distributed or updated, reliable and verifiable, not proprietary, and provided by independent sources that are actively involved in the relevant market.

The categorisation of a financial instrument within the hierarchy is based upon the pricing transparency of the instrument and does not necessarily correspond to the Funds' perceived risk of that instrument.

Financial instruments whose values are based on quoted market prices in active markets, are therefore classified within Level 1.

Financial instruments that trade in markets that are not considered to be active, but are valued based on quoted market prices, dealer quotations or alternative pricing sources supported by observable inputs are classified within Level 2. These include certain Financial Derivative Instruments where the price is calculated internally using observable data. Financial instruments classified as Level 2 traded in markets may be adjusted to reflect illiquidity, such adjustments are based on available market information. All other unquoted instruments are classified into Level 3 by default.

Transfers are deemed to occur at financial period end.

The tables below present the financial instruments carried on the Statement of Financial Position at fair value by level within the valuation hierarchy under IFRS 13 "Fair Value Measurement" as at 30 June 2024 and 31 December 2023:

As at 30 June 2024 and 31 December 2023, the GQG Partners Emerging Markets Equity Fund held the above Russian securities.

In response to western sanctions, the Central Bank of Russia closed local markets to all foreign investors on 25 February 2022. This closure effectively precluded foreign investors, including GQG Partners, from buying or selling Russian securities or receiving dividends on Russian securities. Under these circumstances, the Russian securities in the GQG Partners Emerging Markets Equity Fund are now being "fair valued" in the absences of true market value.

Effective 15 March 2022, all fair valuation prices were reduced by the Investment Manager's Valuation Committee to 0.01 RUB per share. These positions were reclassified from Level 1 to Level 3 at the end of the financial year ended 31 December 2022. This discount was based on the lack of marketability due to the closure of the Russian markets to foreign investors which is considered to be the unobservable input for these Level 3 securities.

Sensitivity analysis

If the market price of the Level 3 investments held by the Funds as at 30 June 2024 was to increase or decrease by 10%, with all other factors remaining constant, this would result in an increase or decrease in net assets attributable to holders of redeemable ordinary shares from operations of USD 200 (approximately nil% of net assets attributable to holders of redeemable shares) (31 December 2023: USD 192 (approximately nil% of net assets attributable to holders of redeemable shares)).

Financial Assets and Liabilities not measured at Fair Value

The financial assets and liabilities not measured at fair value through profit or loss are short-term financial assets and financial liabilities whose carrying amounts approximate fair value. Cash and cash equivalents are classified as Level 1 and all other financial assets and liabilities not measured at fair value through profit or loss are classified as Level 2 in the fair value hierarchy.
