Management Company: Robeco Luxembourg S.A.

Objectives and investment policy

Robeco Lux-o-rente invests worldwide in solid government bonds, such as those included in the JP Morgan Global Government Bond Index. In addition, the fund uses a unique investment model that increases or decreases holdings in German, US and/or Japanese government-bond investments. The selection of the model-based investments is based on economic variables that assess the bond markets' attractiveness.

Derivatives are used to fully hedge currency risks into the Swiss Franc. The model makes use of futures (derivatives) which may lead to a certain degree of leverage.

Benchmark: JPM GBI Global Investment Grade Index (hedged into CHF)..

The fund aims to outperform by taking positions that deviate from the benchmark within pre-defined risk limits. In principle, the share class will distribute dividend.

You can purchase or sell units in the fund on any valuation day. This fund may not be appropriate for investors who plan to withdraw their money within 2-3 years.

Risk and reward profile

Historical data, such as is used in calculating the synthetic indicator, is not a reliable indication of the future risk profile. The risk and reward category shown is not guaranteed to remain unchanged, the categorisation may shift over time. The lowest category does not mean a risk-free investment.

Bond funds in general are less volatile than equity funds. Due to its global focus on developed markets this fund has a relative low volatility although it does invests in derivatives making it more susceptible for larger movements in the development of its value.

The following data are deemed material for this fund, and are not (adequately) reflected by the indicator:

1. The product invests in debt securities. Issuers of debt securities may default on their obligations.
2. The investment exposure of the product is obtained to a material degree through derivatives. A derivative counterparty of the product may fail to fulfil its obligations. The risk is partially mitigated through the use of collateral.

3. The product will invest in derivative instruments. These instruments may present a leverage effect, which will increase the sensitivity of the product to market fluctuations. The risk is limited within the conditions of the products integral risk management.
